Figures Reveal Record Growth Of County Farms

Is the big farmer crowding out the little fellow in Palm Beach County agricultural operations? The answer, according to the US Department of Agriculture 1950 Census, is not a simple yes or no, but figures do show that the trend is towards bigger farms.

NEWS OF GLADES BOYS AND GIRLS IN THE SERVICE

"Dear friends of the Belle Glade Herald: I am writing this letter in appreciation, which I aim to express to you for your fine and most interesting paper."

Being in Korea as I am at this most inconvenient time, news of home town friends is most enjoyable. I not only know what's going on, but I can see plainly and clearly how a paper the caliber of yours is most important to our home town. I want mostly to thank you of the Belle Glade Herald for taking the trouble of letting me enjoy it as though I were home.

MORE CHANGES ON MAIN STREET

Percy Shelley said that "to divide is not to take away." Too true, at least on Main Street, where Bell's Drug Store recently moved into a new building down the block, and Raymond Buckles took over Bell's old location, transformed it into a coffee shop.

Bell's Pharmacy, a handsome addition to the street, boasts complete prescription service, toiletries, and magazines.

Buckles Coffee Shop, on the other hand, boasts its pies, says Margaret Smith is kept busy all day long, baking them. Mr. and Mrs. Buckles, who operated the Diana Grill for six years, opened the coffee shop a little over two weeks ago.

Reception Here After Motorcade

A reception at Belle Glade American Legion Hall next Tuesday at 4:45 pm will write the end to a day's motorcade of federal, state, and local officials visiting protective dikes in the Central and South Florida Flood Control District.

At the reception, sponsored by the County Resources Development Board, State Senator Russell Morrow will be master of ceremonies.

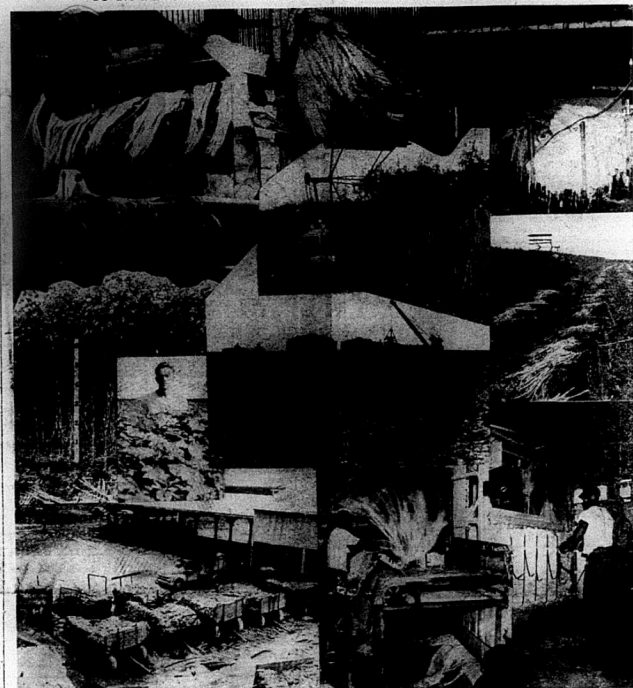

The motorcade, under direction of the CSPCD, in conjunction with the Jacksonville District, Corps of Engineers, will originate at Bayfront Park, Miami, at 9 am Tuesday. County residents are invited to join the motorcade there, or at Davie, where a barbecue will be staged at noon, according to Emmett Roberts, RDB president.

There will be a half-hour ceremony at 20-mile Bend at 3:30 pm, when officials and members of the motorcade will inspect Levees L-8 and L-40, the site of a huge pumping station there, and the beginning of the new L-7.

Distinguished guests on the motorcade and at the reception here will include members of Congress, members of the Governor's cabinet, State legislators, county and municipal officials, additional officers of the Corps of Engineers, officials of agencies which have cooperated in the project, and leading individuals who had a share in the creation.

Refreshments will be served at the reception. The public is urged to attend.

HARVEST AND PROCESSING DURING SUMMER MONTHS BRING $200,000 IN PAYROLLS TO 175 PERSONS AT AMERICAN KENAF FIBER CORP'S PLANT

Kenaf thrives on hot and wet weather, and easily attains height of 12 to 14 feet in the Glades. Lorenzo Connell (left center) is standing in kenaf 30 days after seeding. It is drilled in (upper center) and is harvested by reaper and binder (center panel) and loaded by hand and with loaders (center).

Deoctorator (upper left) keeps a steady stream of fiber flowing, and two men are necessary to remove from ropes.

Fiber Pays Labor A Quarter Million During The Summer

With an actual cash payroll of $202,365 from April thru October, and many additional thousands paid indirectly thru firms from whom supplies and services were purchased, the American Kenaf Fiber Corporation has made a substantial contribution to the summer off-season in the Glades.

With as many as 175 employees at one time on both day and night shift, this summer's work gives an indication of the potential in vegetable fibers in the Glades. It is predicted by those familiar with the marketing possibilities, that up to 20,000 acres of fibers may be grown in the Glades within a few short years, if local and statewide support is given the program.

The figures for this summer from the auditor's report are: April $8,759, May $11,889, June $13,080, July $23,444, August $48,543, September $48,272 and October $48,594.

Florida State Chamber Of Commerce Decries Fratricidal Emasculation

At the request of President Emmett Roberts of the Resources Development Board, Monte Graw, Chairman of the Vegetable Committee, presented the following resolution which was unanimously passed by the Florida Chamber of Commerce at its favorable action by the Resolution Committee, in Jacksonville on Tuesday the 18th.

WHEREAS the Munitions Board of the U. S. Department of Defense has requested the Secretary of Agriculture, thru appropriate agencies, to cause to be produced in the Western Hemisphere, some 15,000,000 pounds of kenaf fiber as a substitute for jute, a critical defense material, as and if hostilities or other factors hamper or cut off the present sources of supply of jute in Pakistan and India; and

WHEREAS, two consecutive years efforts under the request program and entirely with private capital, have resulted in the production and first processing of approximately one and a quarter million pounds of fiber by modern mechanical methods in Florida, the first such production in the Western Hemisphere; and

WHEREAS, since the production in Florida became known the price of jute delivered in the U. S. has fallen more than 60%; and

WHEREAS, leaders in the textile and allied industries state that substantial progress as demonstrated in Florida during the past two years indicates a potential expansion of the vegetable fiber industry would bring millions in capital investment, resulting in thousands of acres of new land-use and millions in weekly payrolls as a permanent addition to the state's year-round economy equalling in value the present citrus industry; and

WHEREAS, the dilatory, vacillating and impractical orders, rules and regulations of the Commodity Credit Corporation under whose jurisdiction the Munition Board's request is being activated, continue to impair and curtail production, to the end that domestic efforts are threatened with extinction in favor of off-shore efforts with American tax money, which to date have produced only a few 500 pound bales;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Floridian Delegation in the National Congress receive the thanks of this organization for the efforts that have been secured for the state this opportunity, and that it be earnestly requested to redouble its efforts to insure that the expressed purpose of the program be effectuated to the economic and possible military advantage of the United States.

WHY THE PILGRIMS GAVE THANKS

Reprinted from The American Magazine, November 1952

This is a story for your Thanksgiving dinner. Undoubtedly every member of your family knows that it was the Pilgrims (not the Puritans) who first conceived of a solemn day for giving thanks. But how many know that the brave Pilgrims were the first to practice communism in America?

We are not suggesting a Senate investigation of the Pilgrim Fathers; our only thought is that this story might give the whole family something to talk about while Father struggles with his carving problem.

The evidence is to be found in the "History of Plymouth Plantation," written by William Bradford, who was Governor of the Pilgrim colony for most of its first twenty-five years. The original manuscript, lost for many years, is now well guarded in the Massachusetts State House at Boston.

From Governor Bradford's history of the Pilgrims, we learn that they started out with a beautiful, idealistic dream. It was a communal or communist scheme in which they agreed that all crops raised by the Pilgrims belonged to the colony as a whole and not to the individual members who worked in the fields.

From the time the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620 until the spring of 1623, they struggled to make this idealistic scheme work, but Bradford reports it did not produce enough workers in the fields to raise the crops necessary to feed the colony. After three hard years of near starvation, they decided to give up communism for individualism.

"...at length," wrote Bradford, "after much debate of things, the Governor (with the advice of the chief amongst them) gave way that they should set each man every man for his own particular, and in that regard, trust to themselves. ... This had very good success, for it made all hands very industrious, so that much more corn was planted than otherwise would have been. ... and gave far better corn than. ... (even) the women now went willingly into the field, and took their little ones with them to set corn, before would have lacked weakness and inability; whom, to have compelled, would have been thought great tyranny and oppression."

When the Pilgrim Governor reports that, he has no idea how significant his words would be 329 years later. In long, involved Elizabethan sentences, he describes the failure of the communist scheme which was supposed to be a perfect way of life, but which actually operated to kill individual initiative and self-interest. Among other things, he said that there was no hope for "godly and sober men" in the false belief that "the taking away of property ... would make them happy and flourishing; as if they were wiser than God."

In the opinion of Governor Bradford, the original communist scheme of the Pilgrims was found to be impractical, wasteful and discontented, and retard much employment that would have been to their benefit and comfort. And the governor concluded that "... God in his wisdom saw another way of ordering their affairs."

The Pilgrim History records that not long after they gave up communism for individualism there were plenty of workers in the fields. Soon there were more than enough food for everyone, and the Pilgrims were grateful. They were so full of gratitude that they set aside a "Solemn Day" for proclaiming "glory, honor and praise with thankfulness to our good God." It was this custom of our Pilgrim Fathers as inspired Abraham Lincoln to issue the first Thanksgiving Day proclamation in 1863.

Our Thanksgiving story is almost over. The Pilgrims must have been wonderful people. They came to America without adequate supplies or equipment because they were strictly on their own. No company or government financed them. They were truly pilgrims in search of a better life. In that sense, perhaps we are all pilgrims or should be.

Unlike most of the other settlements in America, the Pilgrim colony was free from all laws of the Old World. They had no royal grant or charter, as did the Puritans in New England, the Catholics in Maryland, the Quakers in Pennsylvania, or the Church of England men in Virginia. The Pilgrims had to create their own government for themselves. No dictator made them try a communist scheme which was supposed to be a perfect way of life, but which actually operated to kill individual initiative and self-interest and quit it the same way. They did it of their own free will, and they made the most of it.

Even before the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock, the Pilgrims knew they must have some kind of government in order to avoid the dangers of anarchy or a dictator. Therefore, they

Going ... Going ... Almost Gone

Gray Robinson put on quite a show the other night at the annual White Elephant auction held at the Women's Club.

Towards the end of the evening, she had the ladies bidding for anything she put up. "What am I bid for this woman's lovely black coat—good as new? Who'll say ten dollars?" she asked.

Granny held the coat up, and commenced describing it to the ladies in a loud, clear voice. "Well, it's a lovely, lovely, lovely—really 'selling' hand. Then, suddenly, she took a closer look and blurted out: "Land sakes, no more bidding."

From where I sit, what a laugh, but sometimes when people "get carried away" with their own talk it's not so funny. I prefer a glass of temperate beer while listening to my favorite radio program—you may like some, too. I suggest we hold on to our personal opinions ... and be here in them—but take a good close look at them before we try to "sell" them to our neighbor!

all signed a compact agreeing to "submit to such government and government as (they) should by common consent agree to make and choose." This agreement created the first free government in the New World and later became accepted as typically American in its logic and character.

It seems to us that our school children ought to know that the Pilgrims did more than shoot wild turkeys on Thanksgiving Day.

Membership drive now underway

Mrs. Bryant McLendon, first vice president of American Legion Auxiliary and chairman of the membership drive now underway wishes to remind the public any woman eligible for membership may receive further information from her at phone number 2708. She has the necessary membership blanks and is willing to visit the individuals in their homes if necessary.

The present drive will continue to December 31st.

The presentation of the coveted trophy will follow at the game's end. Golden Ram sports sponsors for this match are Nancy Bell and Ann Bass.

And to set things off in the afternoon, Pahokee American Legion has planned a big "be fore game" barbecue.

Keen rivalry has characterized the two schools since the year, when Pahokee gridiron defeated the fledgling Belle Glade High School team. Since then, Belle Glade has taken the edge off the Pahokee victory; and the much engraved cup shows three wins for Pahokee, two for Belle Glade, and two tied games in 1944 and 1950.

Next Wednesday, Thanksgiving Eve, will see fans and students wearing the school colors of blue and gold. Both Pahokee and Belle Glade bands will play on Lair Field during the game.

CHIROPRACTIC LADIES

Install New Officers

Newly elected officers in the Palm Beach County Chiropractic Auxiliary were installed last night at the Flottilla Club, West Palm Beach, according to Mrs. L. S. Jones, vice president, Belle Glade.

Besides Mrs. Jones, officers include Mrs. Claude Hicks, Lake Worth, president; and Mrs. Theodore E. Jackson, West Palm Beach, secretary-treasurer.

The present drive will continue to December 31st.

The presentation of the coveted trophy will follow at the game's end. Golden Ram sports sponsors for this match are Nancy Bell and Ann Bass.

And to set things off in the afternoon, Pahokee American Legion has planned a big "be fore game" barbecue.

Keen rivalry has characterized the two schools since the year, when Pahokee gridiron defeated the fledgling Belle Glade High School team. Since then, Belle Glade has taken the edge off the Pahokee victory; and the much engraved cup shows three wins for Pahokee, two for Belle Glade, and two tied games in 1944 and 1950.

Next Wednesday, Thanksgiving Eve, will see fans and students wearing the school colors of blue and gold. Both Pahokee and Belle Glade bands will play on Lair Field during the game.

South's last performance will be on Sunday, Nov. 27, at 1:30 p.m. at the home field.

Ask Your Law Enforcement Officer

Is one of these stickers on your car? If it is, you're probably following the suggestion "Ask Your Law Enforcement Officer."

The only hitch is, he won't tell... yet.

They just grin, these patrolmen, and say, "We'll tell you later... in about two weeks."

Then they go on pasting these stickers on people's cars.

According to Patrolman Irving Crabbe, who's pasted hundreds of the things, one woman complained, "I need to know now! I'll blow up if I have to wait two weeks!"

Well, she'll try to wait, even if we're dying to know. Police have promised to clear up the mystery next Friday.

WHAT IS IT?

Police will tell next Friday.

During his two-day stay here, McSwain will recruit men from 17 to 18½ years of age, as well as veterans."

The Naval Reserve meets here each Tuesday evening at Okeechobee Camp with Cmdr. Thames as commanding officer. All persons interested in the recruitment program should call Cmdr. Thames at 3116 for further information. 11-21-52

DONALD PARKE ATTENDS HOSPITAL CONFERENCES

Donald Dean Parke, Belle Glade Memorial Hospital superintendent, this week attended a series of meetings in Daytona Beach, Nov. 16-19. Conferences included the annual meeting of member hospitals of the Blue Cross of Florida, Inc., held Sunday at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel; the annual meeting of the Florida Hospital Association, Nov. 17-18; and a joint meeting of the Hospital Association of the Florida State Nurses' Association, Nov. 19.

treatment of offshore areas, add hazards to kenal and ramie production that are hard to face by capital that is ready to come here."

Our government, at the instance of the Defense Department, has spent millions, at times $2.50 per pound, from an appropriation of $30,000,000 attempting to establish a source of supply on the Western Hemisphere of abaca: Sanevieria and other vegetable fibers are also the subjects of costly experiments.

Our government is purchasing Egyptian long staple cotton at $1.07 per pound because domestic production cannot supply its needs for special uses by its war machine, and then gets only 10¢ for it.

Ramie fiber, according to the Quartermaster and the Munitions Board, performs 100% better than long staple cotton in any use in which long staple cotton is put; ramie fiber is obtainable domestically at 8¢ per pound.

Kenaf, according to the USDA, is equal and superior as a substitute for jute, one billion pounds of which we import from India and Pakistan annually.

The Munitions Board requested USDA to have produced approximately 15,000,000 pounds of kenaf during '52 in the Western Hemisphere so that manufacturers might determine what conversion, if any, would be necessary to insure a satisfactory substitute in case of war.

The Commercial Credit Corporation, is the organization, designated by the Secretary of Agriculture to conduct the project with the request: CCC, under existing rules and regulations has the authority to sell kenaf seed which it has stockpiled to persons who contract to grow kenaf under the program; CCC has authority to grant loans.

of certificate of eligibility, even though requested. Private banks afforded what financing was obtainable. These were hampered thru vacillating and conflicting rules promulgated.

A policy making office of the USDA stated in essence that if he received one bale of fiber satisfactory to the manufacturer, he will feel that the program is a success. This despite his own knowledge of millions of private capital, invested in efforts to produce millions of pounds under the contract. Unfortunately, the interpretation of the contract has been assumed to be his prerogative, and his alone.

The grading Committee is composed of one member from industry, one from contract growers, one the chief grader of cotton (incidentally this man is recognized throughout the world as without a peer in cotton grading), one a PhD of the USDA, and the other the Old Boy Himself. It has been assumed that the grading Committee would establish the grades. Not in this case; the Brass furnished the Committee with his grades and says "These they be!" and they were; if at all.

In view of these statements of fact, would you blame a grower if he thinks he is not receiving cooperation in keeping with the spirit of the contract?

It is felt that prohibitive conditions may well be changed thru vigorous representations by our Congressional Delegation.

The continuing of the present plant, and the addition of two more, with consequent assurance of an approximate three quarters of a million summer payroll in Belle Glade means much more than that. Vegetable fibers may well use 30 to 50,000 acres of muck in a normal economic program of Glades agriculture.

procedure; it kept a government grader at the plant to pull samples bearing the same number as the bale. This furnished a basis of grading and delivery to the government.

This year the department proposed that the grower furnish a bond of indefinite time assuring that fiber in bale would be of the same quality as sample pulled by the grower. No bonding was retained to guarantee the same. A grader was sent for a few days and then ordered away.

Last year seed were sold to producers to be paid from crop produced; this year no American contract grower was sold seed except for cash.

Loans were refused contract growers, even though more than normal security was offered. No permission was given RFC or

From that time on the Department has issued thru normal bureaucratic red tape, unprecedented, impractical and illogical rules and regulations contrary to the word and spirit of the contract, and have not to date produced a system by which the producer can deliver fiber to the CCC under the contract.

The local organization has approximately 900,000 pounds of fiber baled and stored in Palm Beach County awaiting instructions as to how to deliver to CCC.

It is customary with producers of potential defense needs to be more than amply paid, financing afforded and 100% write-offs on plant and facilities allowed.

Not one of these normal procedures have been afforded the local organization; a small write-off has been allowed; apparently every stumbling block has been used to disallow any of the others.

Last year the Department favored what seems to be a logical

Spray This Way, Corn Experts Say

Ever worried about making the spray come out even with the potatoes on your plate? Farmers who raise corn are sometimes in a like predicament, trying to balance their corn plantings in accordance with the spraying equipment they have available.

A chart drawn up by John W. Randolph and W. N. Stoner, both of the Everglades Experiment Station, shows the results of using six different spray rigs in corn spraying. Presented at the 65th annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society at St. Petersburg, Nov. 5-7, the chart shows the power required for each rig, the pump capacity, amount of ground covered with one tank, and acres covered per hour.

Soon to be published in the proceedings of the Horticultural convention, the chart should be of great assistance to farmers who need help in "figuring" either how much corn to plant, or how much spraying equipment to buy.

Control Of Blight
NABAM and ZINER commercial fungicides, have been found most effective in controlling blight in sweet corn, according to Frank V. Stevenson, plant pathologist at the Experiment Station, who led a panel discussion at the Horticultural convention. Mr. Stevenson says that 2 pounds of ZINER do 100 gallons of water twice a week is the recommended dose. An equivalent spray may be made with 2 quarts of NABAM plus 1 pound of 25 percent zinc sulphate.

Rated second most effective in blight control is ORTHOCIDE 405, panel members from five experiment stations in southern Florida agreed. Their findings grew out of tests in 1950-51 at their respective stations. Taking part in the panel discussion were John F. Darby, Indian River Field Laboratory, Ft. Pierce; Robert A. Conover, Sub-Tropical Experiment Station, Homestead; George Swank, Jr., Central Florida Experiment Station, Sanford; and Warren N. Stoner, Everglades Experiment Station, Belle Glade.

According to Stevenson, spraying is indicated when the disease is in the area, or "if it has ever been on your particular farm." In this case, start spraying when the corn is no more than 4 to 6 inches high. Also, Stevenson says, "Remember to plough under old stalks as soon after the harvest as possible."

The Clark family have lived at the ranch since February this year, and Mr. Clark is employed as a headman there. Previously, he was employed at the Experiment Station for over a year and a half.

Besides his parents, survivors include a brother, Gary; two sisters, Ginger Frances and Barbara Elaine; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hymn, Orlando; and another grandmother, Mrs. W. T. Allen, Tampa.

Berry's funeral home was in charge of arrangements here.

5-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Ditch

Accidentally drowned Tuesday afternoon in a drainage ditch about 400 feet from his home on Daley Ranch—State road 80, about 15 miles east of Belle Glade.

According to R. S. Burr, Daley ranch foreman, Mrs. Clark notified in the forenoon that the boy was missing; but on inquiry, was told that he was with some of the ranch hands in the fields.

When the field hands returned about 1 p. m., the boy was not with them; and a search was immediately organized by Mr. Burr, who called in all the ranch employees to help.

The child's body was found about 3:30 p. m. by Luther Lance, who found him lying in a drainage ditch. A toy tractor with which the child had been playing was discovered nearby. One of the wheels from the tractor was missing and was seen in the ditch; and it was thought the child had slipped while trying to retrieve the wheel.

Mr. Burr said the ditch contained about 7 feet of water, and that by the time the boy was found, all hope of resuscitation was gone.

The Clark family have lived at the ranch since February this year, and Mr. Clark is employed as a headman there. Previously, he was employed at the Experiment Station for over a year and a half.

on this project. Shelves are being built for the interior by Mr. E. C. Mapp who is donating his time. The building is to be used for termite and cleaned and painted on the inside by a number of citizens who have kindly offered their services and equipment for such purposes.

James D. Wright's 10- and 11-year-old group met at the Hut last Monday afternoon at 3 p. m. for a goodly number in attendance.

Mrs. Russell Tucker's troop of Fayer older boys Tuesday afternoon had a meeting day—also at 3 p. m. The original group included Priscilla S t o n e r, Margaret James, Zump, Margaret Prevatte, Sandra Bracken, Barbara Wolf, Marynez Collins, Joan Wright and Mary Lou Anderson. Any girl 7 years old and over may wish to attend the next meeting and get in on the fun.

The 8-year-old group meeting with Mrs. Beatrice Prevatte on Wednesday includes Judy Amodeo, Iris Blum, Peggy and Peggy Carlton, Edna Felsing, Carol Jean McClure, Gloria Smith and Kathy White.

The Intermediates — girls of 12 years—met with Mrs. Frank Anderson on Thursday at 3:30. Mrs. F. C. White serves as assistant leader of this troop.

Friday at 3:30 the meeting was held at the Hut with Mrs. Arnold's group of 9-year-olds who include Joann Berryhill, Barbara Polite, Steve Kaufman, Jane Kirchman, Annette Collins, Margaret Irvin, Susan Engel, Carmen Gomez, Mary Ellen Lindrose, Anne Marie Murray, Nancy Sue Carroll, S a n d r a D r a a and Sonja Figueroa.

The Senior troop of girls, 13 and over meets Monday night from 7 to 8 at the Hut with Mrs. A. B. McCormick, Council chairman as leader.

HEIFER COMES TROTTLING WHEN HER OWNER CALLS
Some cattle are standing in a pasture.

"Polly, come here," calls Clarence Aspey, Chosen; and Polly, a beige Brahman heifer, lifts her head, listens, trots obediently over to the fence where Mr. and Mrs. Aspey, who raised her from a calf, wait with a grapefruit for Polly's between-meals snack.

Polly always comes when called. Other cattle in the pasture eye her jealously as she takes her vitamin C from her owners' hands.

When "Doc" Van Landingham gave her to the Aspeys two years ago, Polly immediately got pneumonia. Mrs. Aspey, 54, nursed her through a bad spell, treated her like a pet pup, with the result that Polly now counts on extra attention.

Bred to an Angus bull, Polly will calve sometime in February, they say.

EPISCOPAL MINISTER WINS MERIT AWARD

A check for $100 plus a certificate award of merit was received last week by the Rev. John Clarence Petrie who is in charge of the work of the Episcopal Church in Belle Glade, Pahokee, and Clewiston. The certificate reads as follows: "For a sermon excelling in originality of thought, unusual clarity of expression, and vigorous adherence to the principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence on the Occasion of the Freedom Under God Observance of the Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, June 27 through July 4, 1952, on the Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, hereby presented to John Clarence Petrie, Minister of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, October, Columbus Day, 1952 by James C. Ingelbreten, executive vice president and James W. Fifield, Jr., President and Founder."

Spiritual Mobilization, it is explained by Father Petrie, was founded by the famous Dr. F. F. Field, minister of the nation's largest Congregational Church, to awaken the clergy to the fact that they were being used to destroy faith in the principles of the Declaration of Independence.

City Commission To Meet Tuesday

Next week's meeting of the City Commission will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 25, 1952, at 7 p. m. Wednesday, as called for by ordinance. Reason? The all-important Pahokee Blue Devils vs. Belle Glade Golden Rams football game to be played at Pahokee Thanksgiving Eve.

Special meetings this month, however, are the rule, rather than the exception. The commission, since it voted nearly two months ago to change its meetings from Tuesdays to the second and fourth Wednesdays in the month, has actually held only one Wednesday meeting. Happened this way. First, they had to wait for the ordinance to be drafted, to make the change all tidy and legal. Then, before their second Wednesday meeting, scheduled for Nov. 12, it turned out that two commissioners and the city clerk would be absent at a conference in Tallahassee on that date, so a special meeting was called for Nov. 19, instead.

Now comes the football game which nobody in his right mind would miss, and something had to give. It was the commission, which will hold its meeting a day early. 7:30 p. m. is the new meeting time.

Parent-Student Accord Discussed

A panel discussion on the subject "Parent-Student Relationship" with Mrs. W. J. Norris, Frank V. Stevenson, and R. W. Lanier featured the recent meeting of the PTA held in the New High School Auditorium. The Participants were introduced by Mrs. E. D. Humphries, Jr., program chairman.

During the business meeting, a letter was read from the Palm Beach County Council concerning the decision of the Glades PTA groups to remain a part of the County Council rather than to form a separate group of their own.

The Gold-Dobrow Theatres informed the PTA that beginning Dec. 6, they will eliminate the serial from their Saturday show. Their efforts and spirit of cooperation were commended by Mrs. E. M. Lively, president.

The recommendation of the Executive board that the PTA underwrite the amount necessary for curtains and scenery on the stage in the new auditorium was accepted and passed upon a motion made by Mrs. G. R. Townsend and seconded by H. O. Carlton.

Upon the suggestion of Miss Marian Najarian, music supervisor it was voted that 800 song books suitable for community singing be purchased at a cost of $120.00.

Henry O. Earwood reported on "Business Education Day" held in Miami, Nov. 14, as an attempt by business and educational leaders of the community to promote better understanding.

Another interesting talk was given by the Rev. R. E. Ford who spoke on "Education from a devotional standpoint." Mr. E. G. Ankney, new teacher of commercial subjects, was interested to the members by Frank O. Hobson. Mr. Hobson registered the city commission for their assistance in the landscaping of the new high school grounds.

Reports were heard from the membership, cafeteria, Halloween Carnival and safety committee. Mrs. C. W. McDonald told of the playground equipment needs.

The room count was won by the 5th grade.

Farm Conservation Deadline Nov 29

Next Saturday, Nov. 29, is the deadline for registering under the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to J. W. Strydom, county administrative officer of PMA.

Those farmers who want to take part, but have still not registered for the program by which government compensation is paid for certain specified conservation practices, should contact one of their community committees. In this area, Belle Glade-Chosen-South Bay, the committees are Joe Friedman 526 S. Main Street; T. W. Knight, Knight & Co., Inc., State Road 25; and J. L. Murphy, 567 SE 1st Street, all of Belle Glade.

DRIVING TEACHER ADDRESSES WOMEN

"Driving Practices" was the topic discussed by Walter Slauter, guest speaker at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Belle Glade Woman's Club. Mr. Slauter, driving instructor at the local High School dwelt particularly on teen-age driving. A lively discussion followed Mr. Slauter's talk.

The meeting opened with the group singing of America with Mrs. Ben Rider at the piano. The devotional on "Literature" was given by Mrs. Robert Ford.

Mrs. Herbert Beck, chairman of the American citizenship committee, announced the National Woman's Club has added a new "Nationalism" department to get local clubs to display the flag, pledge allegiance, sing patriotic songs and encourage reading of the Bible and prayer in the home.

Club members voted to assist the mobile T.B. Clinic when it is in the city in the near future. The club will also sell Christmas Seal stamps. A booth will be placed in front of the bank on Dec. 4, 5, 11, 12 and in front of Redwing Market on Dec. 5, 6, 12 and 13.

Members were urged to attend the District 10 meeting to be held at Pahokee tomorrow. Members voted into the club at a recent meeting were introduced as follows: Mrs. David Quastel, Mrs. J. W. Turner, Jr., M. Lively.

Mrs. Sam Knight and Mrs. Robert Hubner. New members accepted into membership at Wednesday's meeting included Mrs. Bunn McCall, Mrs. Alan Drake, Mrs. Robert Riley, and Mrs. Thomas Baker.

Mrs. Ralph Freeman, Mrs. Victor Riedel, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. J. T. Harris, Jr., and Mrs. D. W. Kemper served pumpkin pie and coffee to members and guests who included Mrs. Tom Detery and Mrs. E.
